SIGNIFICANT DRIVES FOR MARKETING

Every time a KFC customer buys a bucket, part of the process goes in nutritious feeds for the mal nutrition children

Running a CSR campaign would help in making and producing new products as well as dual branding on the packaging would also take place

Launching specialized KFC products that would integrated some use of Amul product as well as an ingredient in the dish

Using ground workers to run integrated campaign which would make people aware about the same

MEDIA EXECUTION

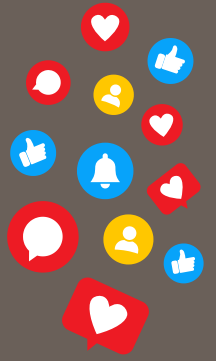

The media execution accounts for the sales and marketing of the product and the campaign respectively , it is therefore necessary to understand how and where the campaign of the brands should be executed via the help of different media platforms

MEDIA EXECUTION

Social media platforms such as instagram ,facebook and X (twitter) accounts for most of the engagement for the brand in all aspects

1

Visual media like Ads and billboards grab attention quickly and helps in building a brand identity

2

The instore media drive helps the customers to know visually that can be a good deal for them hence changing their choice of purchase

3

Traditional media like television still is quite relevant and can gather a large amount of viewers so as for raising awarness the the campaign

4

5

The on ground campaign would help people to get connected by the campaign directly so as to feel they are a part of it

GEN Z

FAMILIES

CONCIOUS
CUSTOMERS

TARGET AUDIENCE

Targeting GenZ would actually help the campaign to get more people together since they are quite available on social media

Families would be able to relate with the campaign and the sense of community belonging would be inherited in the campaign

A socially conscious customer would always work for the betterment of the society and contribute for the overall development of the human being

People would be able to know more about the campaign from the visual communication
